WE ARE A NETWORK of Jews in Britain, formed in February 2002, who oppose Israeli policies that undermine the livelihoods and human, civil and political rights of the Palestinian people.

As well as organising to ensure that Jewish opinions critical of Israeli policy are heard in Britain, we are also developing ways of extending support to Palestinian people trapped in the spiral of violence and repression, and helping Israeli groups who work with them.

We believe that such actions are important in countering both rising anti-semitism and the claim that opposition to Israel's destructive policies is in itself anti-semitic.

We are working together with Just Peace UK, British Friends of Peace Now and European Jews for a Just Peace to build opposition to the Occupation among Jews worldwide. We seek to work with other organisations on specific issues without necessarily endorsing everything they do.

We have no official line on issues, beyond general support for the principles above and support for the right of Israelis to live in freedom and security within Israel's 1967 borders. We see ourselves as a network and a forum in which people can find their own level of participation and engage in activities which they find most relevant.
